

APPENDIX Q: DTS Organization Naming Convention

Q.1 Introduction

1. In order to effectively implement the Defense Travel System (DTS), DoD is establishing a standard organization naming convention for use in DTS. The data field within the DTS software is 20 alphanumeric positions. For maximum efficiency and utility, the naming convention must be logical, easily understood in the field, and hierarchical in nature.
2. Leadership for Service headquarters, Washington Headquarters Services (for the Defense Agencies), and The Joint Staff (for joint/unified commands) must enforce the naming convention. Levels 1 and 2 will be directed by the DTMO; level 3 will be directed by the respective Service/Agency headquarters; level 4 and higher will be for local use within appropriate Service/Agency headquarters guidance.

CAUTIONARY NOTE: The more levels utilized, the more maintenance required as personnel change organizations within an installation. The structure should be carried no lower than the level where travel funds are allocated or travel costs are managed.

3. The following structure will be used:

| Level | Positions | Title | Values |
|-------|------------------|--|--|
| 1 | 1 | Federal Agency | D = DoD |
| 2 | 1 | Component | A=USA; F=USAF; M=USMC; N=USN; D=Defense Agency; J=Joint commands |
| 3 | Service specific | MAJCOM, MACOM, Major Claimant, Defense Agency Bureau Code, Joint/Unified Command/installation code | See Service and Agency specifics below |
| 4 + | Service specific | Normal office symbol, mail code, etc. | See Service and Agency specifics below |

- a) Use of standard codes for level 1 will permit information queries across all DoD. Additional codes will be added if DoD provides DTS services to other Federal Agencies.
- b) Standard component codes for level 2 permit information queries across an entire Service, all defense agencies, or joint commands.
- c) Use of standard codes for level 3 permit functional managers to rollup data by major organizations, an entire Defense Agency, joint/unified command or installation.
- d) Use of standard Service and Agency office symbols and mailing codes for levels 4 and higher will permit rollup of data at any desired organizational level since these codes are hierarchical in nature. These codes are commonly used throughout installations and are known locally.

Q.2 Army Naming Convention

1. The following structure will be used for Army organizations:

| Level | Positions | Title | Values |
|-------|-----------|----------------------|--|
| 1 | 1 | Federal Agency | D = DoD |
| 2 | 1 | Component | A=USA |
| 3 | 3 | ACOM, ASCC, or DRU | Three Alphanumeric Characters (Directed by DA) |
| 4 + | 3 | Subordinate Commands | Three Alphanumeric Characters Per Level |

- Level 1. All DoD components will use “D”. This allows for visibility, access, queries and reports on DoD, as a whole.
- Level 2. All Army organizations will use “A”. This allows for visibility, access, queries and reports on the Army, as a whole.
- Level 3. Defense Travel Administrators (DTAs) teams use the High Level Command codes contained in Annex 1 to develop Army organization names. These codes are used in positions 3, 4, and 5. Use of a standard coding system enables managers and administrators to have oversight of their entire organizations.
- Level 4. Positions 6 though 20 (levels 4+) will be developed by organizations in coordination with their high-level command/ACOM, ASCC, or DRU. Three character codes are required to define each level of all organizations for levels 4 and higher. Table of Distribution and Allowance (TDA) organizations can use the standard office symbol, abbreviated to three characters. Military line units can use their unit designators, abbreviated to three characters. A three-character abbreviation of the UIC can also be used. These codes should make sense and may be based on pre-existing codes that the organization is familiar with. The organizational structure is hierarchical to permit rollup of data at any desired level and permits visibility. The DTA will contact their high-level command POC for guidance in developing DTS organization names. Refer to detailed examples below:

DoD; Army; Forces Command; Eighteenth Airborne Corp, 44th Medical Command, 520th Theater Area Medical Laboratory, room for two additional entries, if needed.

DoD, Army, Army Materiel Command, Communications-Electronics Command, Software Engineering Center, Resource Management Office, additional sub-organization (if needed), additional sub-organization (if needed).

DoD, Army, HQ Dept of the Army, Office of the Chief of Public Affairs (OCA) [UIC=W1BZAA], US Army Broadcasting Service [W4JTAA], room for three additional entries, if needed.

 Coordination

Army DTA POCs will coordinate with the DTS-Army Office, and with their higher command, when planning to add or modify a DTS organization name. Command/organization DTA POCs submit a listing of the proposed command DTS organizational structure for review and approval prior to implementation. An Army DTS Organizational Naming Convention Template (MS Excel spreadsheet) at <http://www.asafm.army.mil/fo/fod/dts/dts-wp/dr/dr.asp> is provided for this purpose. There is a tab in the spreadsheet for each ACOM, ASCC, and DRU. You must open the file as Read Only. To modify the template for your command:

- a. Select the tab for your command.
- b. Make the necessary modifications for approval.
- c. Right click on the tab name.
- d. Select Move or copy.
- e. Under “To book”, select the new book.

- f. Near the bottom left of the dialog box, select Create a copy.
- g. Select OK.
- h. MS Excel creates a new book (separate spreadsheet file) from the selected tab.
- i. Save the new book to a meaningful file name (e.g., command_name DTS Org Template date.xls) in your local environment (workstation or server).
- j. Submit the proposed structure in the saved template file to asafmdts@hqda.army.mil, for review and approval. In the subject of the message, enter Proposed DTS Organization Name.
- k. Once approved, the organization name can be created or modified in DTS.
